

I am a Missouri native who found my way to the west coast and never looked back. I have a long history working in restaurants and bartending, as well as a fierce love of wine. Currently I am pursuing a wine studies degree at Chemeketa Community College and looking to be more involved in the local wine industry. Cheers!